FRIDAY EVENING, JAN. 10, 1908.

INDUSTRIAL RESUMPTION ACTUALLY HERE.

The movement toward industrial resumption in the Connelville coke region, which The Courier has been predicting for some time commences this week, when about 1,500 idle ovens are being fired up.

This is but a beginning. It is the dawn of a morning of new industrial life after a night of panic and terror. It is the rising of the sun of prosperity temporarily obscured by currency clouds that darkened the country's business situation and threatened commercial disaster.

The business interests of the Connelville region can take new hope with the new life of its chief industry. The country hasn't come to the dogs yet, and it isn't going there, the whole fact a full proof of the country's business situation and threatened commercial disaster.

It may not float so high as we have during the past few years but we will all more safely, more serenely and more satisfactorily.

THE UNVEILED PROPHECY OF CHESTER COUNTY.

William Henry Berry, State Treasurer by virtue of Republican wrangling and division, has been in Pittsburgh fighting with Colonel James Madison Guflay the King Bee that never fails and has imparted to the latter the details of a great and glorious vision which hath appeared unto the Democrat C. H. Huckleberry.

It seems the latter has pierced the veil of the future and learned that not only will the next Governor of Pennsylvania be a Democrat, but that a member of the political faith will be the next President of the United States.

The optimism of the opposition is overflowing, but not as yet overwhelming. Treasurer Berry names no names for Governor, but the ambitions of Colonel Guflay have long been known. If he cannot be a Senator, he would be a Governor. The Chesterfieldan Chestnut is delicately dithering.

The prophet who is not without profit in his own country and who reads Field Marshal Guflay like an open book, signally fails to mention the name of Bryan in discussing Presidential possibilities, but instead makes bold to suggest Judge George Gray, a big man from the small State of Delaware.

It is this treason, make the most of it, that's what the Unveiled Prophet of Chester county is doing.

NEW HAVEN GETTING IN LINE.

The action of the New Haven Town Council in passing the $25,000 bond ordinance means that our sister borough is getting ready for consolidation before the census of 1910. The whole community is alive to the importance of saving a bigger place on the map. The proposed bond issue of $25,000 is for the purpose of making street improvements that will place New Haven on an equal footing with Connelville. In respect to its improvements and its indebtedness therefore it means that the citizens of New Haven have no objection to consolidation, but they want it to be on just and fair terms.

If the bond ordinance is voted upon favorably, as seems probable, there is no reason why consolidation may not be effected on schedule time. In the meantime however, there should be no dilatory delay.

Lightning jokers are reported to be scarce in this section in spite of the recent long continued unsuccessful strike of the telephone operators. It is said not to be so unless a considerable number of the operators have found other kinds of employment. If they have the fact does not argue very hard times.

The ancient tragedy of David and Goliath was played again at Alton.

A warm wave with floods is reported to be on the way. The sound of the slight bells is heard in a distant tinkling to the ears of the best girl, but not wholly unwelcome to the young man with the depicted pocket-book.

The Evaluated Ruler of the Elks is getting his picture in the papers again.

Store Policy

This being the oldest of the large Connelville dry goods stores we have seen many changes. Stores have come and gone but this old store has stood since 1881 growing steadily on by you not as a result of the discovery of any new policy or consideration of expediency but by keeping a good store just following the natural principles of integrity and fair and square dealing. The only policy its founder knew. It was quite naturally grown to be Fayette county's foremost store. The store which insures its merchandise as of standard quality. The store to which hundreds turn for authoritative fashion information. Here you will find the very things from all over the world. We never would you habes as well as dices, then, it isn't the money we like in at the infant's goods counter that pleases us the most. It's the starting of a new crop of customers. Where the mother comes to get garments for the little ones, there the little ones are most likely to come to get clothing for themselves when they grow up. So we cultivate future trade all the time by keeping the price marks on infant's goods mighty close to the cost makes. We beg to call your attention to a few specials this week.

NEW TRINITY RECTOR.

Dr. Thomas J. Lloyd Comes to New Haven From Dunbar.

RETAINS ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

For Which He Has Done Much in the Past Eighteen Months—New Haven Congregation Would Like to Have Church Property in Connellsville.

The Rev. Dr. Thomas J. Lloyd who has been pastor of St. John's Episcopal church at Dunbar, and who has been holding services at Trinity Episcopal church, New Haven, in the absence of a regular pastor for some weeks, has been appointed rector of St. John's church at New Haven. Dr. Lloyd will move his household goods from Dunbar into the rectory in New Haven.

Frequently it has been reported that the Trinity church property in New Haven would be purchased by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. No action has been taken under any circumstances for the sale of the property to the railroad company, but something always being held by the congregation of the deal. Extensive improvements are contemplated by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the church property would give the company much needed additional room. At the same time it has long been the desire of many members of the Episcopal church to have a property in Connellsville on which a new church could be erected.

Dr. Lloyd came to Dunbar about 18 months ago and has done much for St. John's church. Among other things a new rectory was built and is now being occupied by Dr. Lloyd and his family. The many friends of Dr. Lloyd and his family are glad to see them in New Haven.

In a very impressive ceremony Bishop Cordell, Whitehead, assisted by Archbishop Cole of Pittsburgh, Bishop of New Castle, Rev. Isaac of Brownsville and Rev. Thomas Lloyd of Dunbar installed the Rev. Frederick Warren Beckman as rector of the St. Peter's Episcopal church at Uniontown last night.
